Weekly Torah Portions for March

Week ending April 7, 2018 (Eighth day of Passover) Shemini I Leviticus 9:1–10:11

Moses instructs Aaron and his sons in offering sacrifices to God in this week's parasha. Nadab and Abihu, two of Aaron's sons, offer "alien fire" to God. God punishes them by killing them immediately. God forbids Moses, Aaron, and his surviving sons from mourning, but commands the rest of the people to do so.

Week ending April 14, 2018 Parashat Shemini II Leviticus 10:12-11:47

The second half of Shemini stipulates the dietary laws concerning which animals are fit and which are unfit for consumption; and concludes with a rationale for being holy and distinguishing between the impure and the pure.

Week ending April 21, 2018

Parashat Tazria-Metzora - Leviticus 12:1-15:33
This double parasha is concerned with various types of unclean conditions. Tazria begins with a discussion of physical defilement and purification following childbirth, and continues with a discussion of tzara-at, which denotes a variety of skin rashes and blemishes. Metzora contains descriptions of other forms of uncleanness, which are thought to refer to various molds or mildews that could discolor surfaces of fabric or stone, and the laws concerning the purification of clothing and houses.

Week ending April 28, 2018 Parashat Ahare-Mot/Kedoshim -Leviticus 16:1-20:27

God speaks to Moses after the death of Aaron's two sons, who were killed for coming too close to the presence of God, in this double parasha. God also instructs Moses and Aaron on the procedures surrounding Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement. Parashat Kedoshim continues with a discussion of the practical and interpersonal applications of holiness. God describes to Moses many ethical and ritual laws aimed at helping the people live lives of holiness. The laws described include some of those recorded in the Ten Commandments, such as respecting one's parents, keeping the Sabbath, and not stealing.

March B'nai Mitzvah

Benjamin Eli Kirsch, son of Suzanne and Matthew Kirsch, and brother to Alex Kirsch, will be called to the Torah as a Bar Mitzvah on April 14, 2018. Ben, a seventh grader at Edgemont Junior-Senior High School, is a soccer fanatic, and he plays for the Kol Ami hoops team. He also plays both guitar and drums, and he writes for the school magazine. Ben enjoys spending his summers at Camp Starlight. For his Mitzvah project, he organized a collection event for Kick For Nick, a foundation that collects soccer equipment and sends it to U.S troops around the globe to distribute to local children in an effort to promote peace; he collected over 460 items. Ben is looking forward to celebrating his special day with his family and friends.

Audrey Schonfeld, daughter of Mark and Julia Schonfeld and sister to Natalie, will be called to the Torah as a Bat Mitzvah on April 14, 2018. Audrey is in 7th grade at Scarsdale Middle School. Her interests include tennis, skiing and piano, and she loves being at the beach and playing with her dog, Buddy. After noticing how much garbage washes up on the beach while on vacation last summer, Audrey was inspired to base her Mitzvah project on cleaning up trash along waterways to help keep our oceans clean. She has done this locally along the Bronx River as well as along the Long Island Sound, and plans to continue these efforts long after her Bat Mitzvah day. Audrey is excited to share this milestone with family and friends.

Logan Gordon, son of Nancy and Darren and brother to Justin and Ryan, will be called to the Torah as a Bar Mitzvah on April 21, 2018. Logan is a 7th grader at Edgemont Jr/Sr High School and attends Camp Lenox. In addition to being kind, funny and outgoing, Logan is a solid student and all-around athlete. For his mitzvah project, Logan demonstrated social responsibility in a variety of ways. His volunteer activities included: monthly cooking of meals for the Open Arms men's shelter in White Plains, kitchen prep at God's Love We Deliver in New York City for those too sick to shop or cook, regular delivery of food from Kol Ami's Pantry to those in the community and participating in the JCCA Cottage School Holiday Gift Drive for mentally disabled and emotionally troubled kids. Logan looks forward to sharing this special day with his friends and family.

A Message from our Rabbi

THE RAIN – AND THE RAINBOW – IN SPAIN

I have had the privilege of traveling with Kol Ami for decades. We have traveled to Israel, to Morocco, to Poland and to Germany. And now to Spain. Each time, a big placard goes in the front of our bus, saying "Congregation Kol Ami." But this is the first time that I was asked that we not identify the bus with something so clearly Jewish. This is the first time we were identified as just "White Plains."

This entire year of Adult Learning has been focused on the Jews of Spain. Why? Because it was an amazing culture. For hundreds of years, the Spanish Jewish community generated scholars and mathematicians, scientists and diplomats, physicians and poets. The music and poetry of Sepharad continue to be part of our liturgical traditions, and the scholarship of its commentators and philosophers continues to be a central part of any serious Jewish learning. Maimonides and Nachmanides wrote their commentaries on the Torah; Moses de Leon authored the Zohar, the central text of the Kabbalah; Judah Halevi and Solomon Ibn Gabirol wrote poetry that still forms the core of any anthology of Hebrew poetry. Sephardic Jewish astronomers and scientists created the astronomical instruments that Vasco De Gama and Christopher Columbus used to navigate the seas. Jews authored works in philosophy and medicine, written in Arabic, Spanish, Latin and Hebrew. It was an amazing culture!!

It was one of the few times in the past two thousands years that Jews, Muslims and Christians shared a cultural and intellectual world. This was largely possible because of Muslim sovereignty in the Iberian peninsula – and it came to a brutal and crashing end with the Reconquista – the Christian reconquest of Spain.

But we were there to see the beauty – and to remember the glory. And these medieval cities are stunning. Barcelona, Seville, Cordoba, Toledo. Perhaps a few of these pictures can capture hints of the mesmerizing beauty of these places, as seen on page 22.

The Spain of today not only celebrates its extraordinary medieval heritage. The great Spanish masters of the past few centuries fill Spain with beauty and innovation. Stepping onto the rooftop of the mansion Gaudi built for his patron, Guell, our imaginations were blown away by the world of fantasy set against the blue sky. We had only been in Spain a few hours, and already our ideas of what art or architecture could be were blown wide open. Only to continue with El Greco, Goya, Velazquez, Picasso, and Miro.

Taste and fragrance, too. Orange trees just beginning to bud (though spring is delayed in Spain, as it seems to be here!). Tapas tours, wine pouring at long lunches – a celebration of senses. Just as the Spanish Hebrew poets of a thousand years ago described their Spain.

But we also experienced the shadow. We met with members of the Jewish community, who said it was fine to be Jewish in Spain, as long as no one knew you were Jewish. Buildings that were once headquarters for the Inquisition (now museums, or municipal buildings), with nary a sign or a plaque. Walls that were constructed in the 1400 and 1500's – and among the building stones were stones with Hebrew inscriptions, taken from Jewish cemeteries that were demolished. And ask anyone of the travelers about Parking Spot #9.

But here we were, 500 years after Ferdinand and Isabella, the Catholic Monarchs, expelled all Jews from Spain. We were witness to the attempts of Spanish citizens to recover some of their own Jewish and Converso stories. And we filled a small Cordoba Jewish museum with our voices in harmony, we sang Havdalah in our hotel lobby in Toledo. And when a day of rain ended in a rainbow over the medieval city of Toledo, we cried out in blessing – Baruch ata adonai zocher ha-brit. Blessed are You, who remembers the covenant.

We are part of a faithful covenant. We are witnesses that the brutal attempt to extinguish all memory of Jewish life failed. We are witnesses to God's faithful covenant. We remain true to our own promise to be partners with God in repairing this world – in nurturing love, and speaking up for justice.

A Message from our Rabbi

"Rabbi, That Sermon was Too Political!"

To be a rabbi is to hear one of the following reactions to a sermon, especially on the holidays:

Either: "Rabbi, that was too political. That's not what religion is for. I don't come to synagogue to hear about current events, or hunger or war. I want to be comforted. I want to hear something that is spiritual or emotional. I want something that helps me forget about the outside world and look inside of myself."

Or: "Rabbi, that was too spiritual. I don't come to synagogue to hear touchy-feely sermons about emotions and relationships. I don't want to meditate or contemplate my inner self. I wish you would talk more about immigration, or gun laws, safe borders, or economic justice, or politics or issues of social justice. I want my rabbi to help me understand the Jewish point of view on the problems of our world."

You know what? I sincerely welcome and enjoy both types of comment. Firstly, it means the person was listening. Secondly, because BOTH are part of what we are expected to contemplate as Jews. It ain't easy being Jewish. We are commanded to contemplate our place in this world; we are expected to engage ourselves in the plight of suffering human beings near and far; and also to participate in the political processes that can help to alleviate that suffering. At the very same time the Jew is required to take that inner journey, to contemplate one's relationship with the Divine, to confront our inner selves in a process that can elevate our souls and help us to grow.

So lest you be surprised, let me tell you right here that during these months to come, our sermons will deal with the rough and tumble of the outside world, as well as the gentle prodding of our inner souls and spiritual growth.

Pesach: The underlying message of Passover is to understand and empathize with our ancient slavery, not simply to look back with gratitude, but mostly to use that empathy to be vigilant watchdogs and advocates for any people who are today enslaved.

Rosh Hashannah: On this holiday that celebrates the creation of the world, we may well hear sermons that attempt to guide our actions as caretakers of the planet.

Yom Kippur: On this 'Sabbath of Sabbaths' we will delve inside of ourselves and imagine ways in which we can individually move forward on our individual spiritual paths.

Sukkot: A season of joy. Our teaching on that holiday will explore and celebrate the importance of joy in our lives as well as the fragility of the Sukkah and the lessons of just how tenuous life can be.

So many possibilities for each and every Shabbat.

Shira, David and I look forward to sharing this journey with you; from the issues of our world, to the inner self, and from joy to precariousness of this gift of life.

Honored to be taking this journey with you,

Rabbi Tom Weiner

Vegetarian "French Onion Soup" - Comfort Food Plus

As some of you know, I am a foodie. I love to eat, and I also love to cook... Many of you have been asking me on Social Media to share some of my recipes. In thinking about what I could share with all of you this month, I decided to write up one of Ilyse and Joel's favorite recipes. French onion. French onion soup is a real comfort food and has a way of warming you up on a cold night.

As you probably know, traditional French Onion Soup is made with Beef broth. This instantly makes it impossible for Vegetarians and those who observe kashrut to enjoy. I adapted this recipe from a Bonnie Stern cookbook. The key is the homemade veggie broth. You can use the stuff from the store, but it is not the Same!! I recommend also making the homemade croutons. You can use just bread, but again the croutons just add much more flavor. For those of you that are "carb friendly" or have gluten issues or it happens to be Pesach, just skip the bread altogether. Enjoy!!

Vegetarian French Onion Soup:

Yields 6 portions

Home made Veggie Broth:

1 leek cut in half

5 carrots cut into 8 pieces

4 celery stalks

2-3 peppers roughly sliced

3-4 some garlic cloves,

2 bay leaves

3 sprigs of thyme

8 peppercorns

2 onions quartered

9 cups of water

French Onion Soup:

6-8 vidalia onions sliced thinly on the horizontal 1 cup dry white wine 1 tbsp. red wine or sherry vinegar 1.5-2 cups shredded gruyere or Swiss Cheese Salt and pepper to taste

Parmesan croutons:

3-4 slices of bread (sourdough or similar) 1/2 cup shredded Parmesan Reggiano (don't use the fake stuff!) 1 tbsp chopped thyme 2 cloves minced garlic

Method: Cantor David Rosen

Step 1- Making the Veggie Broth

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Sprinkle some olive oil and S&P on your favorite veggies. You can rough cut them. Spread evenly on roasting pan and bake for 45mins. Take veggies and put in stock pot. Add water, 2 bay leaves, 3 sprigs of thyme, boil and simmer for at least an hour. Skim as necessary. Season with salt and pepper to taste. Discard veggies and strain broth. Put aside.

Step 2- Preparing the French Onion soup

Slice onions thinly on the horizontal. In a Dutch oven or large deep pan put in onions and coat with extra virgin olive oil. Sauté on low heat to caramelize for approx. 40min. Don't touch onions until they begin to brown....then mix and brown evenly.

Step 3

Add wine, bring to boil and simmer until wine is cooked out (about 15 min). Then add 1 tbsp of red wine or sherry vinegar, cook a few minutes. Add 8 cups of the veggie broth, bring to boil and simmer for 20 min. Add salt and pepper to taste.

Step 4 – Make the croutons (this can be done ahead of time) Cut bread into chunks. Toss with olive oil minced garlic, thyme and Parmesan and roast in oven for 10 min on 400.

Final step

Ladle soup into French onion soup bowls. Layer in some breadcrumbs and load up some shredded gruyere or Swiss. Bake for 10-12 minutes on 400 degree and serve immediately!!

A Message from our Co-President

The March, Madiha, and Passover

I was struggling this month on whether to focus on Kol Ami's continued Be The Light social justice initiatives, honoring Madiha Tubman at our May 3 Spring fundraiser... or Passover, the greatest story of liberation ever told. As I'm finalizing this Connection piece on the bus ride back from the March 24th "March for our Lives" rally in Washington DC, I realized I can do all three.

About 17 hours ago, my family and I met our fellow congregants at 4:45am in the Kol Ami parking lot to fill a bus to DC to lend our voices and feet to a student-led movement seeking real change when it comes to gun control and preventing so many unnecessary gun deaths. As we boarded the bus, despite the early hour, there was a palpable feeling that we were doing something important, something necessary, to join the hundreds of thousands of others from around the country to descend upon DC to declare that enough is enough. The Kol Ami contingent included congregants of all ages — new friends and old. And when we got to DC we joined people of all religions, races and ages to join in solidarity in supporting this student-led movement and to listen to the amazing Parkland survivors tell their personal stories and plead for the need for change. I was especially proud of the large number of young adults from Kol Ami who joined us. One thing this march made clear was that it is these young people that will make a difference. And while we were in DC, many other congregants marched in NYC or in White Plains alongside Rabbis Shira and Tom. This is Kol Ami — where we are committed to social justice, community and each other. We just don't preach it, we act upon it.

It is also of note that Madiha Tubman joined us on this special experience. For those that may not know Madiha, she is Kol Ami's controller — but in reality she is so much more than that, she's part of our Kol Ami family. Madiha, a Muslim, after escaping Liberia with her young son and nothing but the clothes on their back, found her way to Kol Ami where she is now celebrating her 25th anniversary. Madiha is an amazing person to spend time with and the march in DC was no exception. I urge all of you who haven't spent time with Madiha to please stop by the office to do so. I will never forget my wife Cindy telling me what it was like to attend Madiha's swearing-in ceremony in becoming a United States citizen a few years ago. Words like inspirational, patriotic and dedication to making this country and this world a better place each and every day came to mind. As Madiha has often said, "there is no me without Kol Ami"; and I can say, there is no Kol Ami without Madiha. Together we enrich each other's existence. I look forward to seeing you all on May 3 as we celebrate Madiha's 25th anniversary at Kol Ami and support this wonderful place.

Chag sameach. And by the time you are reading this we will have celebrated Passover. Passover is one of my favorite holidays because we celebrate our people's liberation from bondage not just by being grateful but by taking on the responsibility to bring this celebration into our homes and telling this story to our children and grandchildren. We sit around the Seder table and we tell our story ensuring that it gets passed on from generation to generation. And we must not forget that the story of liberation is far broader than just the freeing of the Jewish slaves from Egypt, but is a reminder that as Jews we must fight for liberation and justice everywhere and of every kind.

At Passover we sing Dayanu — enough. In that context, we are thanking God by saying it would have been enough even if not all of the good things happened in delivering us to the land of Israel. In our march on Washington DC, we used "enough" in a different context, to say "enough is enough" and demand that it is time for real change. Will the March to Save Our Lives change the world? No. But as it is says in the Mishnah: You are not obligated to complete the task of perfecting the world, but neither are you at liberty to desist from it.

A Message from our Executive Director

MARCH FOR OUR LIVES

The words "Never Again" have special import to the Jewish community, particularly at this time of year as Yom Hashoah approaches.

On March 24th, 42 Kol Ami members boarded a bus in the pre-dawn hours and joined the March for Our Lives in Washington, DC., while other congregants marched together in White Plains and New York City.

March for Our Lives was inspired by, created by, and led by students across the country who are no longer willing to risk their lives waiting for someone else to take action to stop the epidemic of mass school shootings that has become all too familiar. Standing together with these amazing students, we took to the streets to demand that lives and safety become a priority; and that our legislators take the steps necessary to end the gun violence and mass shootings that have become all too prevalent in our schools today. In collective voice, the crowd defiantly chanted "Never Again". For the reason I mentioned above, I was not comfortable with that chant and preferred the rallying cry "Enough is Enough."

The Mission Statement of the March provides in part: "School safety is not a political issue. There cannot be two sides to doing everything in our power to ensure the lives and futures of children who are at risk of dying when they should be learning, playing, and growing. The mission of March for Our Lives is to demand that a comprehensive and effective bill be immediately brought before Congress to address these gun issues. No special interest group, no political agenda is more critical than timely passage of legislation to effectively address the gun violence issues that are rampant in our country."

The prevention of gun violence is a galvanizing moral issue for our children. When it comes to ending gun violence, our children understand that their voice and their vote are two extremely powerful mechanisms for change. Their activism is contagious, which makes me optimistic that change is coming – a change that is inspired by and led by the kids who are our hope for the future.

It is often said that a picture is worth a thousand words. Two of my favorite photos of the rally are shown below. The first is a photo of our group in front of the U.S. Capitol and captures our community engaged in Tikkun Olam. The second photo speaks simplistically to the importance of sensible gun legislation.

Change is coming. Join us. Be a part of the change! For more information about our social justice initiatives, please call me or email Lori Abrams and Ronnie Cohn at socialjustice@nykolami.org

April ECP Dates:

4/9 School Re-Opens

 $\frac{4}{25}$ 4's Bring Your Favorite Guy to School Day

4/27 Shabbat Dinner for Families with Young Children (flyer page 34)

Spring has officially arrived at the nursery school. It's on everyone's face and in everyone's step; the children have literally blossomed over the winter months and it shows in every part of our Early Childhood Program, from their artwork, to the games they are playing, to the activities they are engaging in and in the friendships they are forming. Spring is here and the warmth and sunshine of the April sun is a welcome reminder that if spring is here summer can't be far behind!

After our spring break we'll be outside exploring and enjoying our innovative Outdoor Classroom and all of the opportunities that it has to offer. We have also started getting our garden beds ready for planting.

After our huge Passover celebration we didn't miss a step and began preparing for another wonderful tradition in the ECP, our Annual Trip to Israel on Yom Ha'atzmaut! Our staff and families alike always look forward to our Yom Ha'atzmaut celebration with great anticipation and this year will be no different. On April 19th after a "rigorous security check" and a most enjoyable "plane ride" the children will have the opportunity to put messages into the wall at the Kotel, stomp on grapes in our vineyard, make orange juice, plant trees, milk a cow, take a picture with a camel, learn how things float in the Dead Sea, fish in Eilat, participate on an Archaeological dig, make a stained glass window, relax at our very own Dead Sea spa complete with mud baths, taste the delicious foods of Israel, learn about the animals who live in the desert, and make their own pita! Of course the morning will not be possible without the able hands of our ECP Staff, Rabbi's Shira, Tom, Cantor David, Jess, Emily, Cindy Musoff our ECP Chair and Felice and Pam, our Religious School Director and Assistant Director, and our many parent volunteers. So, a special thank you to all who will make this morning so special for our 3's, 4's and Pre-k's.

This year we will again be hosting our ever popular Bring your Favorite Guy (dad or grandpa, your uncle, your older brother or adult male family friend) to school days for our 3's and 4's. The 4's will be hosting their special visitor on Wednesday, April 25th with a classroom craft, special treat, and games with Coach Steve. The 3's will have their chance on Wednesday, May 2nd hosting their special visitors with a classroom craft, special treat, and games with Coach Steve.

On Aril 26th our 4's will again participate in our annual Israeli Dance Festival. This year we will be hosting the Festival at Kol Ami. This wonderful annual event involves 5 other Jewish Early Childhood Programs from the Westchester and New York City area. It's a wonderfully rich morning of dance and celebration led by our wonderful teacher Shmulik Gov-Ari.

Looking forward with great anticipation to all of our exciting programming ahead.

Building a Community of Friends, One Family at a Time

A Message from our Religious School Director

With Spring comes planning, cleaning and the feeling of newness. Except for the snow storm on the second day of spring, I love the springtime! As we all begin to look out for those first hints of green, the extra daylight gives everyone the expansive sense of time. In the Religious School this time of year also begins the feeling of racing toward the finish line. In only a couple of months, the school year will be over... and there's still so much we want to do! I hope that as all the distractions of springtime begin to pull you and your children away, you remember all of the important things we have going on here at Kol Ami.

After the April break, after months of learning and preparation, our 8th grade students will lead our community in remembering the Holocaust at our Yom HaShoah service on Wednesday evening, April 11th at 7:30pm. Everyone is invited to join us for what will be a moving and meaningful service.

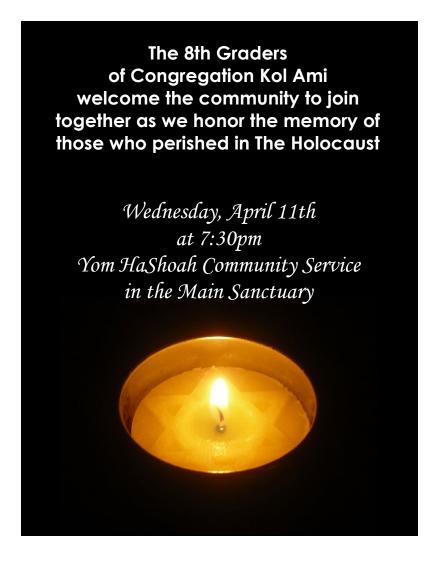

I'll keep everyone posted on all our ongoing programs and activities.

Our weekly newsletter, The Gold Standard, is emailed to our school community each week.

As we continue to do the work of building a joyous community of learning for our children, your ongoing input, inspiration and support are what make it real. Religious School registration for next year will begin soon. Please look for registration info in May. Let your friends know! If you know of someone in our community who may be interested in learning more about our school, please let me know. I'm happy to reach out!

Also, Our annual Kol Ami Retreat will take place on a NEW DATE. Join us the weekend of June 8-10th as we celebrate this amazing weekend and our 25th year. Don't miss this amazing weekend of connection and community!

When Madiha arrived in NY, she had $200 in her pocket, and a small suitcase with a few items of clothing for both her and her son. One day Madiha took her son to a park and ran into an old friend who knew someone who was on the board of a local nursery school. She had called a few schools before this, and explained her situation, hoping to find a preschool for her son in NY that she could afford. But all Madiha got were rejections. Needless to say.... "Life does work in mysterious ways if you align yourself to believe it. Instead of asking how to go about doing it, I asked WHY I couldn't just do it.... I will find a way forward", says Madiha remembering this time in her life's journey, "There is always a way".

And while working, going to school, and living every day in this country, Madiha and her son Abdul, were still fighinting to stay. "10 years of fighting would not have been possible if I did not have the support of my Jewish colleagues and friends. They stood with me and by me, through thick and through thin, and in February 2013 my son and I were sworn in as Citizens of this great Nation." say Madiha.

It would bring Madiha, and Kol Ami, much joy and pleasure if you could make time to join us on May 3, 2018 to celebrate with family, staff, and members of the congregation as we commemorate Madiha's tenure with this beautiful space, and the journey that brought a Kenyan immigrant into a Jewish family and 25 amazing years. Enjoy cocktails, food, a presentation by White Plains Mayor Tom Roach, and entertainment by two well known comedians from CBS, Jon Fitch & Andy Pitz. Together let's share all our stories of "Kol Ami and Me".

TWENTIETH CENTURY ADDITIONS TO THE JEWISH CALENDAR

For 2,000 years the Jewish calendar was virtually unchanged. The apocalyptic events of the mid-twentieth century caused three special days, Yom Hashoah (Holocaust Remembrance Day), Yom Hazikaron (Israel Memorial Day) and Yom Ha'atzmaut (Israel Independence Day), to be added to the Jewish calendar.

Yom Hashoah - The full name of the day commemorating the victims of the Holocaust is "Yom Hashoah Ve-Hagevurah"— literally the "Day of (Remembrance of) the Holocaust and the Heroism." It is marked on the 27th of Nisan — a week after the seventh day of Passover, and a week before Yom Hazikaron. The date, selected by the Knesset in 1951, has become a day commemorated by Jewish communities and individuals worldwide.

In the early 1950s, education about the Holocaust emphasized the suffering inflicted on millions of European Jews by the Nazis. The Israeli educational curriculum shifted the emphasis to documenting how Jews resisted their Nazi tormentors through "passive resistance"—retaining their human dignity in the most unbearable conditions—and by "active resistance" fighting the Nazis in the ghettos and joining with underground partisans who battled the Third Reich.

Since the early 1960s, the sound of a siren on Yom Hashoah stops traffic and pedestrians throughout Israel for two minutes of silent devotion. The siren blows at sundown and again at 11 a.m. All radio and television programs during this day are connected to the Jewish destiny in World War II, including personal interviews with survivors. There is no public entertainment on Yom Hashoah, as theaters, cinemas, pubs, and other public venues are closed throughout Israel.

Jews in North America observe Yom Hashoah within the synagogue as well as in the broader Jewish community. Commemorations range from synagogue services to communal vigils and educational programs. Many Yom Hashoah programs feature a talk by a Holocaust survivor, recitation of appropriate songs and readings, or viewing of a Holocaust-themed film. Some communities emphasize the depth of loss that Jews experienced in the Holocaust by reading the names of Holocaust victims — dramatizing the unfathomable notion of six million deaths.

Yom Hazikaron - The fourth of Iyar, the day preceding Israel's Independence Day, was declared by the Knesset to be a Memorial Day for those who lost their lives in the struggle that led to the establishment of the State of Israel and for all military personnel who were killed while in active duty in Israel's armed forces. Joining these two days together conveys a simple message: Israelis owe their independence and the very existence of the Jewish state to the soldiers who sacrificed their lives for it. In 2018, Yom Hazikaron begins at sundown on April 17.

Yom Hazikaron is different in its character and mood from the American Memorial Day. For 24 hours (from sunset to sunset) all places of public entertainment are closed. The most noticeable feature of the day is the sound of a siren that is heard throughout the country twice, during which the entire nation observes a two-minutes "standstill" of all traffic and daily activities. The first siren marks the beginning of Memorial Day at 8 p.m., and the second is at 11 a.m., before the public recitation of prayers in the military cemeteries. All radio and television stations broadcast programs portraying the lives and heroic deeds of fallen soldiers.

Yom Ha'atzmaut is celebrated on the fifth of lyar, which is the Hebrew date of the formal establishment of the State of Israel, when members of the "provisional government" read and signed a Declaration of Independence in Tel Aviv. The original date corresponded to May 14, 1948. In 2018, it begins at sundown on April 18.

The official "switch" from Yom Hazikaron to Yom Ha'atzmaut occurs a few minutes after sundown, with a ceremony on Mount Herzl in Jerusalem in which the flag is raised from half staff (due to Memorial Day) to the top of the pole. The President of Israel delivers a speech of congratulations, and soldiers representing the Army, Navy, and Air Force parade with their flags. This parade is followed by a torch lighting ceremony, which marks the country's achievements in all spheres of life.

Other than the official ceremonies, Israelis celebrate Yom Ha'atzmaut in a variety of ways. In the cities, nighttime festivities take place on the main streets. Crowds gather to watch free public shows. Many spend the night dancing and singing. During the daytime many Israeli families go out on hikes and picnics. Yom Ha'atzmaut concludes with the ceremony of granting the "Israel Prize," recognizing individual Israelis for their unique contribution to the country's culture, science, arts. and the humanities.

For American Jews, celebrating Yom Ha'atzmaut has been a way to express solidarity with the state of Israel and to strengthen their alliance with it. In many communities, it is one of few occasions in which Jewish organizations and synagogues of different denominations cooperate in forming a common celebration.

Our Offerings of Well-Being

As I start to write this article, the parasha we have just read is Vayikra. In this first section of Leviticus, we find instructions for different kinds of sacrifices. One type of rite described is the voluntary sacrifice of well-being, Zevach Sh'lamim (Leviticus 3:1-17). This sacrifice is distinguished by the festive meal eaten by the donor and the guests, subsequent to the offering made on the altar and the priests being provided with their share.

Soon thereafter, the Kol Ami Sisterhood held its annual Passover tasting and recipe exchange. The sense of well-being among the twenty plus Kol Ami women was palpable as we all enjoyed the offerings of delicious Passover foods contributed by all who were there. Each of us looks forward to contributing new foods at our own seder tables as we recreate our favorites from the shared recipes. Socializing and lots of eating as well as sharing upcoming plans for Passover were the agenda for the evening.

And not long before that, more feelings of well-being were shared at our March Ladies Night Out held at Sam's of Gedney Way in White Plains. Approximately 40 sisters joined together to schmooze and enjoy each other's company along with delicious food and drink.

In Sisterhood, we strive to sanctify our lives and gratitude for well-being through friendship, volunteerism, community, and yes, gathering together around food. In that spirit, we wish you all a zissen Pesach.

Providing endless opportunities for connection and caring in times of joy and in times of sorrow. We call bereaved families, help, lead or participate in shiva services for families in mourning, visit the sick and connect with the homebound. We also work to support the larger Westchester and world communities by knitting for our troops, preparing food for the hungry and through many other activities of mitzvot.

Several of our congregants no longer drive or have difficulty getting to services and special events. Kol Ami Cares maintains a database of members willing and able to provide transportation as needed. Offering a ride even once in a while is hugely appreciated. Also, within our Kol Ami community are older congregants who would welcome a visit in their homes. Many do not have family living nearby and would appreciate the company. Please join our growing list of members who spend time with our housebound congregants. (B'nai mitzvah students may choose this activity as a Mitzvah Project.)

In addition, Kol Ami Cares delivers meals to our members recovering from illness or surgery. We welcome anyone who can provide a meal for those unable to shop or cook for themselves or their families.

Kol Ami's committment to AFYA began in October, 2017 when Danielle Butin, Founder of AFYA gave a talk during the High Holy Days. Spreading Tikkun Olam in our Community

Our February birthday party was sponsored by Lesley Friedman and Hilary Cooper and their families. As they entered the party room, the Coachman kids were welcomed with a huge birthday sign featuring the names of all the kids celebrating a birthday that month. The Coachman kids, along with their new Kol Ami friends, had a lot of fun working together to color and decorate the sign. It was prominently on display throughout the party and served as a wonderful reminder to pay extra attention to those with February birthdays. With their sign complete, the kids moved onto decorating homemade cupcakes and making Valentine's cards for friends and family. Jodi and Rachel Klein added to the sweetness further, by helping the kids make Valentine-themed Rice Krispy treats.

Our Coachman birthday celebrations continued with a March party sponsored by Jamie, Hal, Eliana and Stuart Lieber and Girl Scout Troop 1991. As they have traditionally done for the past few years, these Girl Scouts (including our very own Eliana Lieber and Sophie Mercer), hosted an extra special party. The girls selected and wrapped the gifts, made cards for the birthday children, decorated the room with festive table settings, helped serve pizza and cake to their guests and handed out goody bags to all in the end. Entertainment was provided by Audrey from Backyard Sports with the help of several kids from the Mamaroneck Lions Club.

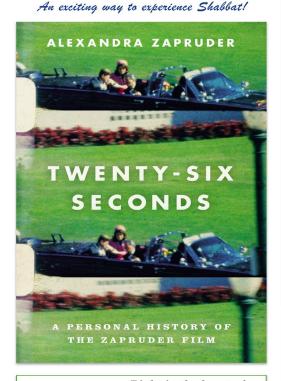

We are in need of sponsors for our upcoming May and June birthday parties. Please contact Alison Adler (alisonadler@nykolami.org) or Lisa Hochman (lisahochman@mac.com) if you're interested in learning more.

Synaplex Shabbat!

FLOURISI Right in the heart of Scarsdale, Diane Forley bakes sweet and savory from her commercial kitchen at Flourish Baking Company. Known for her plantbased baked goods and catering. For millions of us, whenever we think of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy we immediately recall the images: the open presidential car, the stricken young president and his wife (in pink, with a pink pillbox hat on her head) beside him. The film has been shown so many times, seen by so many millions of people, 486 frames of silent (but color) home-movie footage shot in bright sunshine at Dealey Plaza in Dallas on that day, by a Dallas resident..... named Abraham Zapruder.

It is surely the most famous home movie ever filmed.

Alexandra Zapruder, granddaughter of the videographer and a founder of the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum, has written a moving and enlightening account that is part memoir; part detailed history of the film and part overview of the film as an inspiration for countless, often bizarre conspiracy theories, as well as a particularly inventive episode of "Seinfeld." So much history, embodied in a mere 26 seconds of footage!

"We don't brag about the film. It is a gruesome, horrible record of President Kennedy's assassination, which was a tragic event for the country and the Kennedy family. It is nothing to be proud of.... We are tied to the film by chance and coincidence. It is an accident of fate. It happened to be taken by our grandfather and it happened to be called by our name."

If there is one predominant theme of "Twenty-Six Seconds," it is that an individual cannot easily escape "the inheritance of names, and how it shapes identity and life experiences."

LEGACY FUND

DID YOU KNOW...

"The Jewish people still exists because in every generation there have been Jews who believed that our existence as a people and what we bring to the world matters. By all odds, we should have disappeared long ago, as many other peoples did. But we are here because we know that Judaism brings something essential to our lives — something that animates and drives and comforts us. No matter the struggles or successes, Judaism asserts that at the end of the day what we do with our time on earth matters."

Lights In The Forest, Rabbi Paul Citrin, editor

Congregation Kol Ami preserves this belief that each of us matters. Help perpetuate this concept into the future by becoming part of a collective legacy to insure the continued existence of Kol Ami for our next generations.

If you would like the future generations of your family to experience their Judaism in the Kol Ami ways of embracing traditional and innovative practices and celebrations, please consider exploring the ways you can make a planned gift to The Kol Ami Legacy Fund by contacting Evelyne Klein at 914-762-7659, aspencup@aol.com, or Judy Brown at 646-206-4547, gojustjudi@gmail.com.
