

Stacy Brodsky

I received a B.S. from Drew University and I have a Masters of Professional Studies in Elementary and Special Education from Manhattanville College.

Before teaching at the ECP I taught at Westchester Day School and Greenwich Academy. I have worked with students who possess a wide variety of learning styles and have created educational plans that would best meet their individual needs. As an educator and a parent, I know that a compassionate, structured, organized classroom teacher makes ALL the difference in the world.

Jen Benait

I have my undergraduate degree in Early Childhood

Development and a Master's Degree in Social Work. In May 2019 I completed my Yoga

Teacher changing with

Breathe for Change. This training focuses on yoga philosophy, body postures, meditation, and social and emotional learning.

I am a creative educator

that will offer your child the ability to challenge themselves in a supportive learning environment. I recognize that each child is an individual, with their own strengths and learning style.

In 2006, I joined the ECP and since then have worked with many talented teachers in the 3s, 4s and Pre-K. I have been a Co-Teacher of the ECP's A Step Ahead, Pre-K

Program since its inception in 2011. I also Coordinate and lead the ECP's Torah Alive! program. I hold a Bachelor of Arts in U.S.

History and Judaic Studies from SUNY Albany and completed a Master's at the Institute of Contemporary Jewry at Hebrew University. I received my Child

Development Associate certificate in early childhood education from the National Child Care Council in 2013.
